Full: $600 + 450 + 700 + 250 = 2,000$ meters.

Rainy day: $600 + 450 + 700 = 1,750$ meters.

Let the walk unfold.

Set off at 16:00. Four stops, 2 km, and plenty of reasons to take your time.

01 Old station

Follow the river path to the quiet old station. Pause beneath its clock and imagine the weekend travelers who once passed through.

Starting point → station · 600 meters

Pause: 10 min · Sit: bench beneath the station canopy

02 Willow Bridge

Continue to the bridge framed by trailing willow branches. Stop at the railing to watch the river slip beneath you.

Station → bridge · 450 meters

Pause: 5 min · Sit: riverside bench beside the bridge

03 Riverside Books

The little bookshop overlooks the water. Browse a shelf, find a poem, or settle by the window for a few quiet minutes.

Bridge → bookshop · 700 meters

Pause: 20 min · Sit: reading chairs by the window

04 Sunset Pier

Finish at the wooden pier, where the view opens along the river. Sit awhile and watch the afternoon light soften on the water.

Bookshop → pier · 250 meters

Pause: 15 min · Sit: benches at the landward end

Bring less. Notice more.

A comfortable pair of shoes, a little water, and something to sit on. Leave space for the unexpected.

- ☐ Water & a small snack
- ☐ A flask of something warm
- ☐ A light layer for the river breeze

IF THE RAIN COMES

A bookshop kind of afternoon.

Set off at 16:00: starting point → old station (600 m) → Willow Bridge (450 m) → Riverside Books (700 m). Finish indoors among the shelves.

1.75 km total walking distance · Skip the final 250 m to Sunset Pier. Take your station pause under the canopy; keep the bridge stop brief in rain.
